Seasonal from Memorial Day to Labor Day

My fellow members,

Our February highlight was the celebration of the life and legacy of Abraham Lincoln on his birthday at the League House. Although inclement weather prevented us from walking in our traditional parade to Independence Hall, we enjoyed the sights, sounds and speeches in Lincoln Hall. We were joined by over 550 members and guests, and we featured a simulcast in the Meade Room.

Retired U.S. Marine Corps General and former White House Chief of Staff, General John F. Kelly, was our special guest and recipient of the Lincoln Award. General Kelly spoke to us of the commitment of Abraham Lincoln to the Union, and the powerful force historically that the Union has been not only to our nation, but also to the world.

Past President Joan Carter also reminded us of the role of the Union League during the Civil War: "It became the leading organization for pro-Union communication. It recruited and trained 20,000 federal troops and opened the first training camp for African American federal troops. The League cared for widows and orphans of the war and raised millions in support of sick and wounded soldiers. Lincoln's first secretary of War, Simon Cameron, said it best: "The Union League, under God, did more than any other civil organization in America to put down the rebellion.""

It is a testament to the strength and vitality of the Union League that we celebrate our origins in supporting the policies of our sixteenth president and continue to manifest the values he represented.

The second Saturday in February featured our annual Open House, in which we invited the general community to tour the League House and learn about our history, traditions and values. Close to 700 visitors toured the House with guided tours. Let me extend a special thank you to our hard-working and knowledgeable docents.

Union League National's golf course is in the midst of a dramatic renovation with the goal of making it the best golf experience in the region. Interest is strong and the opportunity to become a Golf Amenity

Member at National is still available. If you are interested, please contact the Membership Department. For more information about National as well as important dates, please read our feature article by Jacob Hoffer, General Manager at National on page 16. Also, be sure to mark your calendars for March 21 for an informative evening at the League House with our course architects Dana Fry and Jason Stryka, together with Golf Channel's Matt Ginella. This event will provide information about current renovations and course conditions as well as details about the Master Plan.

I am also happy to report that strategic planning continues under the capable leadership of Jim Carll, joined by Bob Ciarruffoli, Carol Johnson and Mike Maher. The strategic planning committee will periodically discuss their findings with the Board during the year and present a summary to our members toward the end of the year. I know the committee would be interested in your thoughts, so feel free to contact any one of them.

I encourage you to browse this month's Banner to help you plan your participation in one or more of our abundant special events. One I find particularly interesting is Women, Wine and Food in Founders, which will be held on March 8 at 6:00pm. This event was created several years ago by Wine Director Carl Etcheverry. We are pleased to host internationally renowned female winemakers who will speak at this event, and we are excited to feature our very own Executive Pastry Chef Courtney Cormier and 1862 Sous Chef Carlee Czarnik, both of whom have been gaining a reputation for the excellent work they do. Check out the details on page 13.

We are just a few short weeks away from having all five properties open and operational for the second year in row. My thanks to the committees and staff members who are working to prepare us for another successful season.

Charles J. Davidson

Do you know what International Women's Day is or when it began? Believe it or not, it is a day that has been celebrated for over a century, dating back to 1911. The first gathering was supported by over a million persons in Austria, Denmark, Germany, and Switzerland. International Women's Day is unique because it is not an organization or specific group; the day started as a collective effort to celebrate the achievements of women and to further women advancements.

The Union League actively participates in this day by hosting a special event. On Friday, March 8, we will host our fourth rendition of Women, Wine, and Food. Wine Director Carl Etcheverry started this event in 2011 and proudly seeks out top females in the food and beverage industry.

Join us as our panel of women, experts in their respective fields, share their stories of success and answer your questions. Following the panel discussion, a fabulous five-course dinner will be served with wine pairings in Founders.

OUR GUESTS OF HONOR INCLUDE:

- Sheral Schowe, Sommelier
- Audrey Braccini, Winemaker of Domaine Ferret Burgundy
- Daniela Rocca, Owner of Albino Rocca from Piedmont, Italy

UNION LEAGUE NATIONAL GOLF CLUB

“After seeing the commitment to this project at Union League National, I am taking this on as a personal quest. I know for a fact that we will build one of the best golf courses in the Northeast. I know that is a bold statement, but I truly believe in what we’re building here at Union League National.” – Dana Fry

Many members have been to Union League National Golf Club in its inaugural season and have witnessed some of the spectacular changes that are taking place. While some changes have already happened, there are many more in store. In the recent weeks, our design team at Fry/Straka Global Golf Design provided a rendering of the 27-hole layout of Union League National that shows the dramatic transformation as well as the steps we will be going through over the upcoming seasons as we work towards completion. There is no doubt that with the team of Fry/Straka and our skilled construction crew that Union League National will be the subject of many conversations about top renovations and hopefully the recipient of future accolades.

The green of 9 Sherman (left) shows the green tented by a thermal cover to optimize growing conditions during the winter months. In only 10 days, we began to see seedlings of 007 Bentgrass (right) shoot up from the ground.

As you can see from the imagery provided by Fry/Straka (on the cover, within and on the website), there are a tremendous amount of changes taking place. You’ll notice that the aerial view of the property notates more distinct water features and waste areas than the property had previously. Please also keep in mind that these areas are being created by tree removal and widening of playing surfaces to make the golf course more playable for the average player. These features will be the driving force behind the size of the “landforms” that will be created. There are several smaller landforms spread across the property’s master plan in the new design but the most prominent one will be the form that currently occupies the intersection of all three nines. The landform will be comprised of nearly 750,000 yards of fill in an effort to create dramatic elevation changes in a geographic region that is known to be extremely flat. This amount of fill will allow us to house multiple greens and tee complexes and offer players a far different aesthetic than typically seen in coastal regions. One of the most important aspects of this feature is to transplant native vegetation and plant material to ensure the natural look of these areas. Over the past several weeks, our construction crew has prepared over 30 full grown trees for transplant to the landform and elsewhere on the golf course.

At this point the work to the first several holes of the Sherman nine is most notable. Not only have the holes been renovated, but they are also being improved from a grass profile stand point. As we head into our second season at Union League National Golf Club, we know that providing our membership with the finest playing conditions is crucial. As part of the renovation process in the next couple of seasons, our new Director of Golf Course Maintenance, Tom Lipscomb will be making adjustments to the strand of bent grass being used at National. We will be working diligently to replace our current Penncross bent grass with a varietal known as, 007. When asked about the overall benefits to 007 Bentgrass, Tom stated, “There are several benefits to 007 Bent. This strand is a finer blade of grass with an extremely upright growth habit. This allows us to create a faster and truer putting surface. Not only are the growth tendencies of 007 more conducive to faster surfaces, it is also more resilient to heat and disease and requires less water to perform at an elite level. Our members will notice the difference in the playing conditions of 007 Bentgrass immediately.” Our plan is to systematically convert all greens and fairways to 007 Bentgrass throughout the course of our renovation.

Two key players of the construction team at National are our shapers, Ernie Polverari and Luis Varela. This exceptional duo came to Union League National in February 2018 following their work at Mammoth Dunes at Sand Valley in central Wisconsin. Ernie and Luis are known as “Shapers” and it is their job to take the architects’ direction and grading plans and interpret them in the earth. We are very lucky to have Ernie and Luis at Union League National. In a recent publication by GOLF Magazine, Mammoth Dunes was ranked the #1 New Golf Course in 2018. We are confident that with their skills on our project, there is little doubt that similar accolades are coming our way! “The templates being used to create our design concept are some of the finest examples of golf architecture. Being familiar with these templates like Pine Valley, Mammoth Dunes and Pinehurst in conjunction with the work of Fry/Straka at properties like Erin Hills (site of 2017 U.S. Open), Calusa Pines and a whole host of great golf courses, I am confident that we will be creating a golf experience unlike anything in our geographic region.” – Jacob Hoffer

With the breathtaking changes to our golf course, we wanted to also complement those improvements with adjustments to our practice facility. During the 2019 golf season we will be using the East End Range as our true Practice Area. We have recently added a short game area for chipping and pitching. It is also designed with a practice bunker that affords the opportunity to practice both greenside and fairway bunker shots. Our professional staff is eagerly awaiting the opportunity to give instruction on all of the difficult golf shots you can be faced with as you navigate the different courses at UL National. The East End range will be reserved for those long practice sessions while the West End range will be used most specifically for pre-round warm-ups.

We are excited for our second golf season at Union League National Golf Club and we are building off of our momentum from year one as our membership grows and we continue to improve our product. The team has been hard at work during the off season preparing for the opening and a fantastic second season. Please note a few important upcoming dates and be sure to mark your calendars. We encourage all members to visit National this season and to enjoy all the League has to offer at the shore. For a more in depth look at the Master Plan and an opportunity to hear more about National, please join fellow members for a Meet and Greet Reception with architects Dana Fry and Jason Straka and the Golf Channel’s Matt Ginella on March 21 at 5:00pm at the League House.

In addition to managing renovations and planning events, the team has also been busy welcoming many League members as Golf Amenity Members of National. Members who are interested in becoming a Golf Amenity Member at National are encouraged to contact Membership Director Lauren Detweiler at 215-587-5576 or Jacob Hoffer, General Manager of National at 609-465-3555 prior to April to ensure the full benefits.

Target America: Intelligence and Espionage in the United States During the First World War

Fellow League member and Vice President of Foundations and Library, Ed Turzanski, provides an in-depth look at how foreign states employed the espionage tradecraft of the day to try to draw America into, or keep it out of, World War I. Russian interference in the 2016 Presidential Election was not the first, or most effective, effort to sway the course of American politics, that came a century ago. Join us for a presentation on the unrelenting campaign of espionage, by friend and foe, meant to secretly affect the course of American foreign policy in the early twentieth century leading up to the First World War. Ed Turzanski is a Life Member of the Association of Former Intelligence Officers, historian, and John Templeton Fellow of the Foreign Policy Research Institute.

Union League History 102 with Jim Mundy

From Reconstruction to World War One, 1865-1920, Philadelphia was quietly emerging as the Workshop of the World. It had the country's largest diversified manufacturing-based economy that made almost everything imaginable, and the League was the club of the industrial elite who owned and ran this industrial, manufacturing giant. League members would become

Ciphers, Secrets, and Spies in the Elizabethan Age

The Elizabethan era (1588-1603) is often depicted as the “Golden Age” in England’s history, but the reality that included religious conflicts that tore families apart, political challenges to Queen Elizabeth’s authority, high levels of poverty and crime, and vulnerability to foreign invasion, was far grimmer. The Queen was considered a Protestant heretic by rulers of Europe and numerous plots were hatched to dethrone her and replace her with the Catholic Mary Queen of Scots. Carol Ann Lloyd will describe this tumultuous time with its secret plots, intercepted and decoded messages, and assassination attempts.

Hall, known as the “Madonna of the Resistance,” was one of the greatest spies in American and English history. Even as her face covered WANTED posters throughout Europe, Hall refused orders to evacuate. She finally escaped in a death-defying climb over of the Pyrenees into Spain, her cover blown, and her associates imprisoned or executed. AMERICAN LEGION POST #405 Operation Mountain Resolve - Rooftop Landing of a Chinook, A Testament to Teamwork Come and meet the Aircrew and soldiers involved in the Yankee 26 mission called Operation Mountain Resolve. Present will be Pilot CW4 (Ret) Larry Murphy, Flight Engineer MSG James Duggan and Infantryman Kollin Berg. All participated in the Operation that resulted in the mission where a photo was taken of a U.S. Army Boeing CH-47 Chinook Transport Helicopter performing a rooftop landing in the remote mountain region of Northeastern Afghanistan to extract and relocate detained personnel.

In November, 2003 during Operation Mountain Resolve, the crew of Yankee 26 from G Co., 104th Aviation Regiment, a combined unit from both the PA and CT Army National Guard, was providing resupply and support operations to elements of the 10th Mountain Division. This challenging rear wheel landing onto a tenuous "mud hut" rooftop taken by an embedded Combat Cameraman, was accomplished in rugged, steep mountain terrain in very low light conditions under threat of enemy fire, has become an iconic image from that conflict.

The presentation will include discussions from the aircrew and soldier's perspectives, detailing the events of Operation Mountain Resolve leading up to the mission. We are delighted to share their stories which highlight the importance of teamwork during military operations contributing to overall mission success. Veterans, non-veterans, family and friends are always welcome to attend!

Beast in the Northeast 5K at Torresdale

Members and staff are invited to participate in the annual 5K at Torresdale. Whether you are a first time participant, or a seasoned vet, we have some tips for you:

ALWAYS warm up before you go on a training run! Dynamic stretches such as high knees, jumping jacks, butt kicks, etc. will get the blood flowing.

During your training, make sure you don't do too much too soon! Start with shorter distances and gradually increase.

Start your runs on the "slower side" and fall in to a comfortable pace you can maintain.

Focus on your breathing during your runs. This will help you stay relaxed and get enough oxygen to your muscles.

Keep your running form intact. Your shoulders should be relaxed, and your arms should be swinging down toward your hips, not crossing over your body. You want to expend the least amount of energy possible!

For more advanced runners, feel free to throw in some speedwork or hill intervals 1-2x per week.

Don't forget to SMILE! Smiling releases endorphins and will help you stay relaxed throughout your runs.

ALWAYS cool down! Static stretching after your runs is very important!

Be sure to register online.

When: Sunday, April 7 with registration at 7:15am, race at 8:00am

Junior Golf

Any great club knows the importance of cultivating members and club culture from the ground floor. There are few better measures of a golf club's success than the size and activity of its junior golf program. At both Union League golf properties, we take pride in offering the most dynamic junior golf programs in the country and we strive to continually improve our offering to ensure golf is a regular part of your families' lives. We measure success not in handicaps lowered or trophies collected, but instead in that moment when we hear a student begging their parent or grand-parent, "can we come back to the course tomorrow?" As golf professionals, nothing brings us more pride than playing a small part in creating those experiences.

The Union League of Philadelphia is fortunate to have two very passionate instructors guiding the comprehensive junior programs at both Torresdale and National. Jamie Hoke has been the driving force behind the initial success of Junior Golf at the Union League. Jamie's passion for junior golf stems from his own personal growth in the game of golf. "Personally, I have fond memories of my father and I waking up at 6:00am to play a quick nine before he left for work on weekdays. One of the few places left where a parent and child can walk together with no distractions other than their own games. No phones, no work to be done, no homework to worry about, no bills to be paid, for two hours it was just me and my dad. Looking back there was nothing more precious than those two hours," said Hoke when asked about his favorite golf memories. Most recently Jamie was nominated to the honorable mention list of Top 50 Kids Coaches and also received a 2018 nomination for Junior Golf Leader of the Year. His philosophy stems from overall athletic development of junior golfers and cultivating a passion for the game through a fun and inviting environment.

At National, Donald Strassner's diverse knowledge in mechanics and delivery, combined with his prior experiences as a Director of Golf Instruction, Head Golf Professional, and Assistant Professional make lesson time an exercise well spent! Donald's teaching philosophy hinges on creating learning that is memorable, focused and impacts each student through their personal learning styles. His constant research on best practices, coupled with current trends makes golf accessible for all learners – especially the junior golfers. Donald has been recognized in the world of golf in wanting to grow the game, and was selected to the PGA's Presidents Council four times and twice as an Honorable Mention in the USKids Top 50 youth teachers in the United States. Don is also very active with multiple golf-based programs for people with disabilities, including the Amputee Golf Association and Special Olympics. His passion for the game truly shines through his ability with all ages and physical ability levels.

At the Union League, we have always and will always, emphasize fun as the goal before overall performance. The junior golf programs have been built using the Long-Term Athletic Development model. Using this model each instructor builds a passion for golf within the student first while building crucial athletic skills that translate to any sport. It is not uncommon to come to a junior golf clinic and see kids throwing tennis balls at a target or playing bocce ball with colored golf balls. "Each drill is chosen to work on a fundamental athletic skill that will enhance their golf abilities, but also be relevant in any sport." Hoke added when asked about the activities seen within our programs. He went on to say, "Once a child shows a passion for the game and has the basic athletic skills, then we as instructors will start to work on golf-specific technique. The program is designed for kids to gain enough ability to play golf in high school if they choose. Our goal is to provide a foundation in golf that will allow the student to enjoy the game at whatever level he or she chooses. We often use high school golf as our benchmark, knowing that if we as instructors can create a golfer who can play at that level, then we have likely created a passionate golfer for life."

Junior Golf at the Union League has continued to grow year after year. In 2015, there were 20 students in our program, last year we had over 225 individual children participate in either the program at Torresdale or National. Through that success we were able to create one of the largest private junior golf leagues in the area. The basis of the program has always been having something for every age group and we offer programs for children from 3 to 18 years old. Although both Torresdale and National's junior programs are designed to complement one another, there are slightly different offerings at each golf property to match the needs of each specific membership.

Little Leaguers golf is one of the new classes for 2019. This program will allow even the youngest of junior golfers to explore the world of golf. Our Little Leaguer program is for ages 3 to 6 and teaches the most basic fundamentals of golf. In addition to learning the fundamentals, students begin to develop basic athletic skills like throwing, catching and hitting.

The next stage is our multi-day Golf Camps and Junior Clinics. This level is perfect for any child ages 7-13 that wants to be introduced to the game of golf. These clinics and camps are all about getting the kids moving and having fun while playing golf. We use a series of drills that each child rotates through during the clinic. This allows for the child to stay in a “flow” state where they are enjoying the challenge and in a peak learning state. The daily topic of the class may vary but, all areas of the game will be covered.

Both Torresdale and National will offer multi-day golf schools throughout the summer. Due to the success of the 4-day Golf School, we have also added 2-Day Schools at the Shore. We believe these 2-day Schools will allow juniors to enjoy a structured golf school during their busy summer months. During the camps, groups will receive instruction on etiquette and golf history along with focused attention on developing specific targeted skill sets through multiple learning presentations.

Also, surfing is not only limited to the beach! Golfboards have made a splash at Union League National Golf Club. This program is designed to incorporate golf instruction with on-course fun. We will introduce the very popular Golfboards during this series.

As students progress through our program and develop a passion for golf, we encourage them to join our Junior League team where they will compete on a Little League-style golf team. Each child is paired with another player on the team and plays against a pair of children from another team in a scramble format. Not only do our instructors coach the members of these teams, but also the culture has begun to create an environment where peer learning is prevalent. “It is so exciting to see teammates working together to help achieve success as a group,” says Junior Golf Leader, Jamie Hoke.

Finally, once a child shows a level of skill and passion for golf we encourage them to go for private instruction and compete in outside junior tournaments. We have had players compete at every level of junior golf from local U.S. Kids tournaments to National AJGA events, if you believe your child is ready to take the next step in golf, we are here to help guide you to the right events.

Again, it is the goal of the Union League and its golf instructors to create a learning environment that helps all skill levels enjoy the game at the level that they choose. If you have any questions regarding the Junior Golf Program at the Union League please feel free to contact Jamie Hoke (Torresdale) at HokeJ@unionleague.org or Don Strassner (National) at StrassnerD@unionleague.org.

BOOK CLUB

The Blue Tattoo: The Life of Olive Oatman by Margot Mifflin
In 1819 Olive Oatman was a thirteen-year-old pioneer traveling west toward Zion, with her Mormon family. Within a decade, she was a white Indian with a clan tattoo, caught between cultures. The Blue Tattoo tells the harrowing story of this forgotten heroine of frontier America. Orphaned when her family was brutally killed by Nagai Indians, Oatman lived as a slave to her captors for a year before being traded to the Mohave, who tattooed her face and raised her as their own. She was fully assimilated and perfectly happy when, at nineteen, she was ransomed back to white society. She became an instant celebrity, but the price of fame was high and the pain of her ruptured childhood lasted a lifetime.

It focuses attention on the roles of women, blacks, immigrants, and other individuals who typically fall outside of scrutiny in studies of American war-making society, and provides new information on subjects such as raising money for war, civil liberties in wartime, the role of returning soldiers in culture, religion, relief work, popular culture, and building support for the cause of the Union and freedom. Organized topically, this book covers the geographic breadth of the diverse northern home fronts. Dr. Miller will also address specific aspects of life, work, relief, home life, religion, and political affairs, to name only a few. His lecture will reveal the key moments and gradual developments over time that influenced northern understanding of participation in, and reactions to the costs and promise of a great Civil War.

Target: American Intelligence and Espionage in the United States During the First World War
Fellow League member and Vice President of Foundations and Libraries, Ed Turanski, provides an in-depth look at how foreign states employed the espionage tradecraft of the day to try to draw America into, or keep it out of, World War I. Russian interference in the 2016 Presidential Election was not the first, or most effective, effort to sway the course of American politics - that came a century ago. Join us for a presentation on the underlying campaign of espionage - by friend and foe - meant to secretly affect the course of American foreign policy in the early twentieth century leading up to the First World War. Ed Turanski is a Life Member of the Association of Former Intelligence Officers, Historian, and John Templeton Fellow of the Foreign Policy Research Institute.

ROYAL OAK PROGRAM
Ciphers, Secrets, and Spies in the Elizabethan Age
The Elizabethan era (1558-1603) is often depicted as the "Golden Age" in England's history, but the reality, which included religious conflicts that tore families apart, political challenges to Queen Elizabeth's authority, high levels of poverty and crime, and vulnerability to foreign invasion, was far grimmer. The Queen was considered a Protestant heretic by rulers of Europe and numerous plots were hatched to dethrone her and replace her with the Catholic Mary Queen of Scots. Elizabeth's closest courtiers tried to protect her. Secretary of State Francis Walsingham took charge. His clandestine agents moved throughout England and Europe, unearthing a series of threats against the Queen. Author, speaker, and educator Carol Ann Lloyd will describe this tumultuous time with its secret plots, intercepted and decoded messages, and assassination attempts. She will uncover dark corners of Elizabethan English history and reveal the ability to control information became the most potent tool of the realm.

Fire Wrecks Primos Coal Building

Flames and explosions wrecked a storage building of the Primos Coal Co., in Primos, Delaware county, early yesterday, destroying a stockpile of hard coal and a 10-ton trailer-truck.

Residents were aroused from sleep about 4 A. M. by the series of explosions that shook the vicinity of the coal yard and spread flames through the 200-foot long one-story wooden structure.

TRUCK ON RAMP
 The huge truck was on a ramp leading to the dumping platform of the storage shed when the fire started. The coal was under the ramp in bins. Flames roared through the shed and hours later the coal was still smoldering. Two smaller trucks were damaged.

More explosions ripped through the flames when the fire reached the truck tanks and four drums of oil and gasoline stored in the building.

Paul Goldsmith, 23, of Madison ave., Clifton Heights, a fireman, fell while fighting the blaze and suffered burns of the left hand and cuts of the knee. He was treated at the scene.

Union League Views Facsimile Inquirer

Assembled at the Union League yesterday afternoon, several hundred members and their guests watched two editions of The Inquirer's facsimile newspaper roll out of a receiving set.

There was a special edition, full of features of interest to Union League members, sent out at 1:30 P. M., and reception of the regular 2:30 edition began an hour later.

BROADCAST FROM INQUIRER
 The facsimile editions are prepared and broadcast from a special newsroom in The Inquirer Building and sent over WFIL-FM to receivers at various locations in the city as part of a demonstration of "the newspaper of tomorrow" being staged this week.

There were shows at Wanamaker's, Gimbel's and Strawbridge and Clothier at 2:30, 4:30 and 8 o'clock yesterday and at Frank and Seders at 8 P. M., in addition to the Union League demonstration. The Inquirer plans to repeat the demonstrations in the four stores at 2:30 and 4:30 P. M. today and tomorrow.

GATHER AFTER LUNCH
 At the Union League a receiving set was placed in a second floor room and after lunch many of the members gathered there, headed by Millard D. Brown, league president.

There was a voice announcement over WFIL-FM and then the pages of the special edition rolled out of the receiver.

They carried pictures of the league house of today and its original home on Chestnut st.; a congratulatory message to The Inquirer from President Brown and then a page of pictures taken only a few minutes before the first page being produced. Many more were present for the regular edition an hour later and expressed their amazement at the new production method.

REAR OF HOME BURNED

Arsonist Is Sought For 3 Fires

Police are searching the Germantown section for a firebug who early yesterday set three fires, one in a dwelling from which six persons fled to the street.

After the third blaze, in the home of Philip Falcone, 67, at 5118 Lena st., a deputy fire marshal picked up a man and his son for questioning. Later, the father returned to his home but the son was detained for further investigation. Their names were not revealed.

2 LUMBER YARD BLAZES
 Before the Falcone fire, discovered at 2:15 A. M. by Mrs. Falcone, firemen extinguished two simultaneous blazes in the Yaeger Lumber Co., Inc., yard at 77 E. Wister st., just around the corner from the Falcone home.

Fire officials said both fires bore the marks of incendiarism. Near the scene of yesterday's fire is the D. F. Water & Sons, Inc., dye works, on Lena st. between Wister and Columbia, which was badly damaged by two three-alarm fires on April 24 and 25.

MEADE

Union League National Golf Club is a 27 hole course with three sets of nine. When the Union League acquired this property in October of 2017, it was decided to rename the courses, formerly known as North, South and West to Meade, Sherman and Grant. All were prominent Civil War Generals and all were awarded The Union League of Philadelphia Silver Medal in 1863.

Meade was a Major General for the Union's northernmost army, the Army of the Potomac, from 1863 through the end of the war. In 1866, he was presented with the League's highest honor, a special Gold Medal and the only unique Gold Medal presented in the League's history.

GRANT

Grant began his Civil War service in the West as a recruiter, before being promoted to Commander of the District of Southeastern Missouri. After several major victories he was promoted by Lincoln to Commanding General of the Army, the highest position in the military, in 1864. He later served as the 18 President of the United States (1869-1877).

Sherman served as a Major General for the Union Army during the Civil War. He led his troops in the famous March to the Sea. During this march his troops destroyed both military targets and civilian property, effectively destabilizing the South and hindering the Confederacy's ability to continue fighting for the rest of the Civil War.

SHERMAN

National's pin flags were designed to pay homage to the regiment flags used by the Union Army during the American Civil War. These flags were red, white and blue in color and featured numbers and other symbols in order to indicate branch, division and regiment. These flags served an important purpose. They helped units of soldiers maintain their formation during battle. We hope our golf pin flags provide direction as you battle the renovated holes at National and lead you to victory. See you on the greens!
